Geomagnetic Storms Workshop

On August 30-31, 2011, staff attended a workshop on geomagnetic storms hosted by the North American Electric Reliability Council (NERC) in Atlanta, Georgia. The purpose of the workshop was to discuss issues related to grid challenges as a result of geomagnetic disturbances (GMD) and degradation of large power transformers. Industry experts from utilities, who have operating experience with geomagnetically-induced current (GIC) as a result of geomagnetic storms and solar flares, provided guidelines on protective measures that have been implemented in their transmission networks. Federal entities, such as the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), Department of Homeland Security (DHS), Department of Energy (DOE), and Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) participated in this meeting.

On September 8, 2011, staff also met with representatives from FERC, DHS, and DOE in a separate meeting in Washington, DC, to discuss the reliability and restoration strategies of offsite power/grid after a significant GMD event.

Biannual Coordination Meeting with American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) Executives

On August 30, 2011, staff conducted a regularly-scheduled biannual teleconference with executives from ASME to discuss schedule and priorities for the next six months. The discussions focused on common work assignments, including ASME code updates and Code Cases. All parties agreed that these periodic conversations were useful in efficiently and effectively directing both our efforts, and to continue to have them on the existing schedule.

RES Publication of Draft Regulatory Guide DG-1278, "Monitoring the Effectiveness of Maintenance at Nuclear Power Plants"

On September 6, 2011, the staff issued DG-1278, "Monitoring the Effectiveness of Maintenance at Nuclear Power Plants" to provide the public an opportunity to comment on the proposed third revision to Regulatory Guide (RG) 1.160 dated March 1997. DG -1278 provides methods acceptable to the NRC staff for complying with the provision of Section 50.65, "Requirements for Monitoring the Effectiveness of Maintenance at Nuclear Power Plants," in Title 10, of the Code of Federal Regulations, Part 50, "Domestic Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities." The draft regulatory guide endorses Revision 4A to Nuclear Management and Resources Council (NUMARC) 93-01, "Industry Guidelines for Monitoring the Effectiveness of Maintenance at Nuclear power Plants." Revision 4A of NUMARC 93-01 provides enhanced clarity for scoping of non-safety related systems, structures, and components based on their use in Emergency Operating Procedures. It also provides guidance for considering fire risk in risk assessments, and provides enhanced consistency in unavailability monitoring between the Maintenance Rule and Reactor Oversight Process. Revision 4A to NUMARC 93-01 incorporates guidance previously contained in RG 1.182, Revision 0, "Assessing and Managing Risk before Maintenance Activities at Nuclear Power Plants," issued May 2000. Therefore, this revision to RG 1.160 supersedes RG 1.182, Revision 0. The draft regulatory guide 1278 is on-line at: <http://pbadupws.nrc.gov/docs/ML1116/ML111640267.pdf>.
